Photo Courtesy: Gary John Norman/Image Bank/Getty Images Bedsheets: If hand-washing, your bed sheets should be washed in hot, soapy water. You don't want to wake up in the middle of the night covered in sweat because your sheets don't breathe well. Blankets: Depending on your blanket fabric, you may need to pay attention to the instructions provided by the manufacturer. Remember to fluff your pillows daily to get rid of dust and dead skin cells. Remember: It's always important to follow the manufacturer-provided instructions, but these tips might help take things to the next level. If you spot a stain, try to take care of it before the washing process begins. (Or, at a minimum, every other week.) If you're sick or taking care of someone who's not feeling well, washing the bed sheets daily is an important step when it comes to getting better. Photo Courtesy: Unsplash Who wants to sleep on scratchy, itchy sheets? Ideally, you should be washing them every week. Maybe that seems acceptable to you, and, clearly, you wouldn't be alone. If you don't see anything, you shouldn't feel relief. Pillowcases: Pillowcases should be machine-washed in cold water and dried on a cool setting. Try vacuuming your blankets. To make things worse, these cells actually attract dust mites. But that doesn't change the fact that unwashed bed sheets are a paradise for microscopic dust mites and other allergens. The thing you can find anything without the help of a microscope, which magnify all those tiny, aryan-like white creatures that call your bed home. Wash your sheets regularly in hot water. For those of us who enjoy a midnight snack, there might even be some crumbs splashing the bed sheets. A guide to washing your bed sheets. Already planning your next wash? Don't time a wash well? The best way to keep them under control? Consider cleaning them in a commercial washer and dryer. Your duvets or bedspreads may require special care that your regular washing machine can't be able to provide as well. The best sheets are soft and fashionable, as well as breathable. Known as dust mites, these pests are invisible to the naked eye, but around a washing machine pillow in a room. So how often do you have to wash your bedding? You should always try to first see if it is color-resistant by dipping a corner into a little bit of the detergent. If you decided to wash at home, it should be done in cold water and over low heat.
